

OBJECTS TO JUDGE WOFFORD

DR. J. D. GODDARD WILL ASK FOR A SPECIAL JUDGE.

Slayer of Fred J. Jackson Alleges That the Criminal Judge is Prejudiced Against Him—Case Will Come Up Monday.

Messrs. Beebe & Watson, attorneys for Dr. J. D. Goddard, indicted for murder in the first degree, for killing Fred J. Jackson, yesterday filed in the criminal court a notice to the state that on next Monday, when the Goddard case will be called, they will file application for a special judge, on the ground that Judge Wofford is prejudiced against Goddard.

The Goddard case bids fair to be almost as sensational as the case of Jackson, the murdered man, was the husband of Mrs. Lizzie Jackson, proprietress of the Jackson laundry. Though not her family physician, Dr. Goddard frequently called upon Mrs. Jackson, and the doctor, who ran a drug store at Independence, was popularly supposed that the drug store was practically bought by Mrs. Jackson. It is stated that she had advanced him large sums of money. Her husband had died to her the money, dry business which he had built up and to which he had given the best years of his life, literally working his eyes out in caring for the property.

TABLES WERE TURNED.

Mrs. R. N. Conkle Gets a Divorce on Her Crossbill and is Completely Vindicated.

The tables were turned in Judge Gates' court yesterday, and a wife who had been charged with various acts of misconduct in a suit for divorce walked out of the courtroom with a decree of divorce herself, completely vindicated. The plaintiff was Royal N. Conkle, who charged Emma Conkle with drawing a crossbill upon him, and poisoning him and rendering his condition intolerable by cruel and barbarous conduct.

Priests of Pallas Receiving Many Congratulations From People in Other Towns.

President J. P. Loomas, of the Priests of Pallas Association, has received many letters of congratulation and flattering newspaper notices of the late festivities held in this city. One newspaper notice particularly pleasing to him came in yesterday from J. C. Riley, Jr., editor of the Blade, at Black Rock, Ark. It said:

"The dozens or more of our home people who attended the festivities in Kansas City this year pronounce it the biggest crowd, the best time and the finest city they ever saw. Kansas City not only knows how to attract guests, but also how to entertain them after they get within the gates of the city. Through the kindness of the citizens, they received handsome souvenirs and an invitation to attend the Priests of Pallas ball, nearly all of whom accepted the invitation; this meant that a dozen of our people, business men and their wives, went to Kansas City, a distance of 200 miles, to enjoy the festivities. These people, as a matter of course, spent many dollars while there, not only in the way of stocks of goods, but as presents, mementoes and so on. At the time the Blade was in correspondence with the president of the Priests of Pallas it also dropped a line to the president of the Priests of Pallas at St. Louis, to which no response ever came. St. Louis is only about 200 miles distant, but not one of our citizens has been to St. Louis in all of this year to show that it not only pays to advertise, but it does pay to pay some attention to such side-tracks papers as the Blade."

Don't Want Its Tracks Used.

The upper house street and alley committee met yesterday morning and considered the ordinance granting a thirty years' franchise to the East Side Street Railway Company. The question at issue was whether the company should be allowed to use the tracks of the Northeast Street Railway Company from the west side of Walnut street to Grand avenue. The officials of the latter company were present and protested against allowing the joint use of its tracks.

HOW IT IS ACCOMPLISHED

Callers at our Century Club Booth, adjoining the Book Department, are continually expressing surprise and wonderment at our splendid Century offer.

How was such an offer made possible? It is simple enough. By an arrangement with The Century Company, Publishers, to form a limited club for the purpose of introducing The Century Dictionary and Cyclopaedia in its final and completed form, we are enabled to offer to a limited number of our customers single sets of the work at the same low price at which they are sold in lots of one thousand, thus placing each individual on a par with the largest wholesale buyer.

Those who order before our club limit is reached will save over 40 per cent of the regular price, and will be allowed to pay for it in small monthly payments, if they prefer. Remember, this club offer was made for introductory purposes, and was limited from the start. Every day you delay, therefore, diminishes your chances of securing one of these sets at this special introductory rate.

Call and examine the work.

If you cannot call cut out and mail the annexed Inquiry Blank. It will bring you full information.
